Housing Starts Historical Chart

The Housing Starts Historical Chart shows the macro level of housing since the 1960s by Macro Charts. The chart was made very concisely, the shadows to focus on where the housing dips it helps to draw the viewer to the most important facts. This chart could be better if the author had added y and x subtitles, chart title, and small caption on the upper right side to understand what the viewers is looking at, because without a presenter nor a paper to understand this chart. The view will have no way to understand what this chart is trying to show.
